On 10 February 2022, you emailed the Ministry of Social Development (the Ministry) requesting, under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act), the following information:

- As of 31st January 2022, how much of the Government's $380.6m Apprenticeship Boost fund which commenced on 1 August 2020 has been paid to employers in total?

The Apprenticeship Boost Initiative programme came into effect on 5 August 2020 and was due to expire on 4 April 2022. The programme has since been extended an additional four months and is now available until 4 August 2022. As a result, the budget was increased, and the total budget available for the Apprenticeship Boost Initiative is now $427.491 million.

The purpose of this programme is to support employers to engage and retain eligible apprentices who are in training towards their qualification, and in turn, to assist New Zealand's recovery from the impacts of COVID-19. The policies regarding the initiative were led by the Ministry of Education, however, the administration of the scheme is led by the Ministry.

An employer is eligible for assistance under this programme if they:

- have applied for assistance in accordance with clause 9 of the programme,
- make an employment position, or engage a self-employed contractor, who is an eligible apprentice,
- are not a State Sector employer, and
- are not receiving a specified payment in respect of the eligible apprentice.

For the purpose of this programme, an eligible apprentice is a person who the Ministry is satisfied:

- is enrolled in a New Zealand Apprenticeship with a Transitional Industry Training Organisation,
- is enrolled in a Tertiary Education Commission (TEC)-recognised Managed Apprenticeship with a provider,
- has not had their enrolment withdrawn or put on hold,
- is in paid employment or a paid contracting arrangement with an applicant, and
- has completed no more than 24 months of a programme of study.

The amount of a grant for an applicant eligible under clause 6 of the programme is (exclusive of GST):

- $1,000 per month during the first 12 months of the eligible apprentice's programme of study, to a maximum of $12,000 per annum, and
- $500 per month during the second 12 months of the eligible apprentice's programme of study, to a maximum of $6,000 per annum.
