

Aotearoa Food Rescue Alliance

The Aotearoa Food Rescue Alliance provides national support for local food rescue organisations to reduce food waste and increase food security.

The Aotearoa Food Rescue Alliance (AFRA) provides national support for local food rescue organisations through capacity building, encouraging best practice, enhancing collaboration and advocating for the interests of the food rescue sector in Aotearoa, New Zealand.

CAPACITY BUILDING

BEST PRACTICE

COLLABORATION

ADVOCACY

- Capacity building: fully equipped food rescue organisations to meet supply and demand;
- Best practice: informed and evidenced best practice;
- Collaboration: greater impact through collective impact;
- Advocacy: policy and practice influenced by local action.

We have 17 members of the alliance who are food rescue organisations across Aotearoa, New Zealand, that prevent food from being wasted by collecting and redistributing food to people in need. Members will be supported by a governance board, with sector representation, and a small team of staff.

The Aotearoa Food Rescue Alliance will formally launch in March 2021; however it has been operational since December 2020. Please contact: aotearoafoodrescuealliance@gmail.com for more information. AFRA intends to be a registered charity, supported at the outset through a Ministry of Social Development grant.
